FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

GRAND OPENING OF NEW OFFICE FURNITURE SHOWROOM

One Point Opens their First Showroom in Reading

Reading, PA. - April 19, 2007 - One Point celebrated the grand opening of their state of the art office furniture showroom in Reading. One Point clients, staff, and Reading Mayor Tom McMahan were on hand to celebrate the opening and the investment in Reading’s growth.

One Point, formerly Commercial Design and Furnishing, remodeled vacant space in their current building and moved from a small office space next door to a new showroom with almost 6000 square feet on display. The newly opened space is filled with furniture vignettes: from offices, to conference areas, to a hospital room. Decorating the walls is artwork from local artists. One Point wanted to give local artists the opportunity to show and sell their work, and the designers also suggest it to their commercial clients. When asked if it was difficult to coordinate the new showroom, Clair McKoy, Reading General Manager, replied, “No, this is what we do every day for our clients: choosing wall coverings, fabrics, furniture, scheduling contractors, all of it – that’s what we do.” According to President, Patrick McMahan, “This is just the first step; we hope to open the next showroom in Scranton later this year.”

One Point Commercial Design and Furnishings is located at 103 Lancaster Avenue in Reading. They are a unique, full-service interior design firm. Services range from supplying one item of furniture to providing a complete turnkey operation – from site selection through post-project evaluation. For more information, stop in or contact Clair McKoy at 610-375-1111.
